

It's passion like this that motivates us to achieve great things.

We've shown our expertise and enthusiasm as a leading force in medical progress for more than 175 years. That includes developing the innovative surgical tape that helped professional handball player Michael Allendorf bounce back quickly after breaking a bone in his hand. Day after day, with 54,000 ambitious employees around the world and a network of specialist expertise, we make lasting improvements to the quality of people's lives. And you could develop your talents with us as
